to create an authentic stenciled design on tinware shows the patience and talent of these artists. A full size wedding ring quilt required three years of hand stitching.

Tinsel Painting is sometimes called Pearl or Oriental painting. It was popular in the mid 19th century. Examples of this are not plentiful. The designs were most often flowers and birds and were executed with transparent colors with black and white background painted around the detail. Paintings were backed up with crumbled tin foil which gave the transparent portions a jewel-like appearance. Lead or tin foil was obtained from tea packages.

Originating in China in the 1970's, theorems, or paintings on velvet, were an avocation of ladies during the 19th century. The designs are stenciled and finely shaded.

Stenciling was the main technique of painted decoration on household tin ware and wooden furniture. The traditional patterns have been carefully reproduced. Some of the pieces exhibited have been handed down through the generations and repainted by the artists.

This exhibit fairly glitters with gold leaf, shining enamel and the brilliant tinsel paintings. Antique frames complement many of the paintings.

Council on Aging

The Council welcomes spring with two big bus trips. On May 29 we have planned a trip to the Arnold Arboretum. We are in hopes that the weather will cooperate with us and that the lilacs will be in full bloom. The second large bus trip is scheduled for June 12. This trip is to Sturbridge Village to view an early American community. Luncheon may be purchased or you may bring a picnic lunch. Two minibus trips are planned to Heritage Plantation early in June and again we hope that the azaleas and rhododendrons will be at their best. There is also a museum on the grounds to fill out the day. Wear comfortable shoes for these trips and help celebrate the welcomed spring by participating in the scheduled trips.

The following quotation from a bronze tablet in the narthex of the building gives the historical and spiritual setting for this occasion: "This building, erected in 1821, is the oldest religious building in present use in Mattapoisett. By subscription for 39 shares this building was erected at a cost of $1156. There have been many pastors over these years, the longest of which was Rev. William Faunce who came here in 1864. He was Faithful unto death 1898.

"Edward P. Faunce, grandson of the Rev. Mr. Faunce, left in trust a sum of money, the income of which is to be used for the restoration, care, etc. of this meeting house, and administered by five trustees, appointed by the Probate Court, in accordance with the will of said Edward P. Faunce.

"This meeting house is to be used for religious, educational, scientific, and historical purposes of and for the Mattapoisett community."

Children's Theater

"THE RELUCTANT DRAGON" COMING

The Boston Children's Theatre Touring Company will present "The Reluctant Dragon" on Sunday, April 29, at 2 P.M. in the Dartmouth High School auditorium.

The play is dramatized from Kenneth Grahame's delightful tale about Horace, the dragon, who really prefers writing poetry but is forced by community opinion to fight St. George, the noted slayer of dragons and protector of fair damsels. It is performed entirely by children and should have wide appeal from nursery school through elementary age.

Tickets may be purchased at the door or in advance by calling 994-9332 or 992-9061.

Sponsoring the program is the New Bedford Day Nursery at 1060 Cove Road, a United Way agency, now in its ninety-third year of providing day care service for pre-school children of working mothers.

Each performance features a wide range of skits from the high comedy of "The Health Spa" to the pathos of "Tree" to the surrealism of "Waves".

The Association for the Performing Arts
has honored The Pocket Mime Theatre
with its annual "Excellence in Theatre" award for three consecutive years. They have been repeatedly cited in New England papers for "Best Play" and "Extraordinary Ensemble Acting". They have also received the support of the National Endowment for the Arts and the Massachusetts Council on the Arts and Humanities. Many of their performances are funded in part by the New England Touring Program.

"We want everyone to have a good time at our shows," explains J. Tormey, who has been with the company since it began in 1970. "I think that part of the reason people enjoy mime so much is that they participate in the creative process as much as we do. After all, it's the imagination of the audience that makes things happen."

"Truly outstanding because it is the kind of production that really appeals to everyone's tastes. Pocket Mime Theatre is perfect entertainment," wrote a Tufts University reviewer after a recent performance.

A free workshop by the company will be held at noon on May 1 in the South Alcove of the Main Cafeteria.

JUBILANCE PREVAILS

After the outstanding performance of the Yale Russian Chorus last Friday evening, Steven Lipsitt conducting, and his brother Eric singing the solos, jubilance prevailed, as is shown here in the photo with their parents, Dr. and Mrs. Don R. Lipsitt of Marion and Brookline. Eric graduates from Yale University in June, and Steven will enter his Senior year at Yale. As they completed the program Eric and Steven sang an encore especially dedicated to their grandmother, Mrs. Joseph Lipsitt (who was present with her family) of Marion. The duet sung by the two brothers was heart-warming, as was noted by the enthusiastic capacity audience in Wickenden Chapel, Tabor Academy, Marion.

ERIC LIPSITT (SOLOIST), DR. AND MRS. DON R. LIPSITT, AND STEVEN LIPSITT, DIRECTOR OF CHORUS.

Records of the Russian chorus were available. A few of the chorus members explained the Russian songs prior to every performance of that number which lent a few laughs to the renditions.
